◆ Analysis ▾

Here's a breakdown of potential areas of concern:

- Limited Stock Issuance: The corporation is authorized to issue only one class of stock, Common Stock, with a total of 10,000,000 shares at a par value of $0.00001. While this is common for new companies, it's important to consider future capital-raising needs and whether this structure provides enough flexibility. ▾
- Board of Directors' Powers: The Board of Directors holds significant power, including the ability to amend or repeal the company's Bylaws. While this is also typical, it's essential to ensure that there are appropriate checks and balances in place to protect shareholder interests. ▾
