Intro

- One of the most powerful and versatile elements of LLM Applications.

Components

- We create the function.
- We describe the function in a way that ChatGPT understands.
- We configure the bot to have the function within its reach.
- We ask ChatGPT a question.
- ChatGPT analyzes the question and reasons that it should use the described function.
- The function returns the answer in code format.
- For ChatGPT to construct its response in a conversational form, we re-pass the question and the function's response in code format. ChatGPT analyzes both and creates the conversational response.
